What Is Samaritan Well?

Samaritan Well: the Lewis County Unmet Needs Committee is comprised of area residents and representatives from helping organizations. Our goal is to aid the victims of local disasters with resources that can be used to return their lives to a pre-disaster status.

This committee reactivated in 2003 as a result of the tornado that affected many parts of Lewis County both directly and indirectly. Our initial goal was to help those individuals impacted by the tornado. Additionally we support disaster preparedness efforts. Disaster preparedness helps keep our community safe and lessens the impact of disaster on individuals, families, and communities.

What Does Samaritan Well Do?

Samaritan well conducts a variety of tasks including the following:

- Individual case assessment for those impacted by disaster, (individual families or larger scale events)
- Collaborate with local, regional, state and national organizations to access resources for recovery
- Provide educational opportunities about disaster preparedness
- Provide training for volunteers who can help when we are threatened by or have a disaster
